OUR COMMITMENT TO NEVADA COMMUNITIES

As president and CEO of Nevada State Bank, I believe it's our responsibility to be deeply involved in serving the communities in which we operate. For nearly 60 years, our colleagues have supported local non-profits and volunteered for financial literacy efforts like Junior Achievement, and the Bank sponsors community events throughout the state. Here's just a brief sampling of some of the things we're doing this spring:

Swish-for-a-Wish. We joined with the UNLV Runnin' Rebels basketball team again this year to raise money and awareness for Make-a-Wish Southern Nevada. From November 11 through February 21, Nevada State Bank donated $25 for every free throw made by a Rebel. Our $12,950 donation will help make wishes come true for many children with serious medical conditions.

Nevada Museum of Art. In Reno, The Private Bank by Nevada State Bank is sponsoring an exhibit at the Nevada Museum of Art called "Hans-Meyer Kassel, Artist of Nevada." Meyer-Kassel, whose paintings have hung in museums across the United States and Europe, loved northern Nevada and was one of the most prolific and successful artists in the region in the mid-20th century. We're happy to introduce his work to museum visitors.

Communities in Schools of Northeastern Nevada. Nevada State Bank is proud to continue our support of CIS, which provides student support services at Flag View Intermediate School in Elko. They supply tutoring, school supplies, food and clothing, and other assistance designed to help students succeed in school and reduce the dropout rate. We also help sponsor CIS's "Fill the Bus" school supply drives throughout the state each summer.

In addition to supporting the arts and charitable causes throughout the state, the Bank continues to provide information to business owners and managers through events like the Northern Nevada Business Weekly's Breakfast & Business series, which we sponsor. I'll be the guest speaker at the monthly breakfast in April, discussing our 2018 Nevada State Bank Small Business Survey Report. (If you'd like to register to receive a copy of the report, please visit nevadasmallbusiness.com/survey.) We also provide lunch-and-learn events in both northern and southern Nevada with information business leaders can use to increase efficiencies and grow their companies.

Whether it's helping school children, providing valuable resources to business leaders, or promoting financial literacy efforts, Nevada State Bank plays a vital role in communities across Nevada. We look forward to continuing our support for Nevada's families and businesses in the years to come.
